

HONOURABLE COMPANY OF MASTER MARINERS Chartered Master Mariner (CMMar)

Over the last fifty years many professions have developed their own ways of recognising excellence. Until recently, the maritime industry has not been one of these.

“ Not only will it act as a hallmark in the industry, but also as a motivator for maritime professionals... Recipients of Chartered status will indeed act as beacons of light and champions within the Maritime Sector.

*The Right Honourable Alderman The Lord Mountevans, Past Lord Mayor of the City of London, Trustee of Seafarers UK,
Chairman of Maritime London.* ”

Officers who aspire to command at sea have to achieve the Master STCW II/2 qualification, or its equivalent, that is rightly and globally recognised as the highest mark of professional excellence. The Chartership programme seeks to build on that by making it available to officers who have achieved the STCW career pinnacle, but who are seeking to add a different sort of professional status that recognises the exceptional service they give over and above their sea-going activities.

“ BP Shipping are actively encouraging our mariners to apply for the Chartered Master Mariner scheme and we sponsor them through as we view the CMMar as recognition of their Continuous Professional Development and associated professional enhancement of our company.

*Captain Mark Fortnum CMMar
Vice President Technical and Vetting, BP Shipping* ”

Chartership presents a new goal for Master Mariners by recognising the individual endeavour of those who have benefited our industry and improved their own professional capability. It is a mark of excellence that evidences personal eminence and expertise, superior competence and peer-recognised qualities.

For more information:

www.hcmm.org.uk

cmmar@hcmm.org.uk

@HCMM_UK

HONOURABLE COMPANY OF MASTER MARINERS Chartered Master Mariner (CMMar)

Over the last fifty years many professions have developed their own ways of recognising excellence. Until recently, the maritime industry has not been one of these.

“

The award represents a hallmark of excellence that, undoubtedly, will have a positive impact across the UK industry and eventually, across the global maritime domain.

*Admiral Tony Radakin CB
The First Sea Lord and Chief of the Naval Staff*

”

Officers who aspire to command at sea have to achieve the Master STCW II/2 qualification, or its equivalent, that is rightly and globally recognised as the highest mark of professional excellence. The Chartership programme seeks to build on that by making it available to officers who have achieved the STCW career pinnacle, but who are seeking to add a different sort of professional status that recognises the exceptional service they give over and above their sea-going activities.

“

As a Chartered Master Mariner, all my academic achievements, professional attainments, command experience and training are brought together taking me out of the narrow confines of my job description and committing me to continued professional development in support of the broader maritime industry.

*Captain Nick Nash CMMar FNI
President of the Nautical Institute, Senior Shipmaster*

”

Chartership presents a new goal for Master Mariners by recognising the individual endeavour of those who have benefited our industry and improved their own professional capability. It is a mark of excellence that evidences personal eminence and expertise, superior competence and peer-recognised qualities.

For more information:

www.hcmm.org.uk

cmmar@hcmm.org.uk

@HCMM_UK